Q: What is the ruling on recording the Qur'an onto cassettes and then selling them?

A: There is nothing preventing this (i.e. selling them). (In actuality) you are selling the cassettes, and not the Qur'an. The Qur'an is not to be sold. Verily, you are only selling the efforts that you put into (publishing/producing it). For example the Mushaf, they do not sell the Qur'an itself, but rather (they sell) the efforts that was put into it.
